

ARCTIC ANTHROPOLOGY

Anthropology in the Aleutians

Guest Editors:
Caroline Funk and Debra G. Corbett

Vol. 48

2011

No. 2

CONTENTS

Anthropology in the Aleutians: Introductory Comments.....	Caroline Funk and Debra G. Corbett	1
Two Chiefs' Houses from the Western Aleutian Islands	Debra G. Corbett	3
Petroglyphs From Gillon Point, Agattu Island, Aleutian Islands, Alaska	Dixie West, Debra G. Corbett, and Christine Lefèvre	18
Rat Islands Archaeological Research 2003 and 2009: Working toward an Understanding of Regional Cultural and Environmental Histories	Caroline Funk	25
Analysis of Artifacts and Debitage: Perspectives on Lithic Resource Use on Adak Island, Alaska	Elizabeth G. Wilmerding and Marvin Kay	52
Zooarchaeological Analysis at Adk-011, Adak Island, Central Aleutian Islands, Alaska	Christine Lefèvre, Dixie West, and Debra G. Corbett	69
Tukusngaluġa, or The Chiefs' Gathering Place: A Bureaucratic Case History of an Alaska Native Heritage Site in the Aleutian Islands.....	Rita A. Miraglia	83
Architecture and Complex Hearth Features at the Amaknak Bridge Site, Eastern Aleutian Islands, Alaska	Jason S. Rogers	92
Chipped Stone Technology and the Colonization of the Aleutian Archipelago	Virginia Hatfield	113

Cover illustration: Dance resulting from a successful hunt. Walter J. Hoffman, The Graphic Art of the Eskimos, pp. 739-968. In: The Annual Report of the United States National Museum for 1865, Washington, D.C.