

ARCTIC ANTHROPOLOGY

Vol. 54

2017

No. 1

CONTENTS

Yesterday's Memories, Today's Discourses: The Struggle of the Russian Sámi to Construct a Meaningful Past	Lukas Allemann	1
Collective and Individual Memories: Narrations about the Transformations in the Nenets Society	Roza Laptander	22
Leaving Novaia Zemlia: Narrative Strategies of the Resettlement of the Nenets	Karina Lukin	32
And People Asked: "We Want to Have Lakes to Fish!" and Lakes Were Given. Skolt Sámi Relocation after WWII in Finland.....	Nuccio Mazzullo	46
Aleut Ethnography in Transition: In Memory of Dorothy Jones.....	Katherine L. Reedy and Marie E. Lowe	61
"The Russians are Coming": U.S.–Soviet Collaboration in the Study of the Prehistory of Beringia during the Cold War—Joint Excavations in the Aleutian Islands, 1974	Aleksandr K. Konopatsky, Yaroslav V. Kuzmin, and Richard L. Bland	72
Ivory versus Antler: A Reassessment of Binary Structuralism in the Study of Prehistoric Eskimo Cultures	Feng Qu	90
Spatial Expression of Kinship among the Dukha Reindeer Herders of Northern Mongolia.....	Matthew J. O'Brien and Todd A. Surovell	110