

BC The British Columbian Quarterly STUDIES

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

BC Studies accepts submissions on an ongoing basis from all disciplines, emerging and established scholars, culture producers, community-based researchers, artists...

Articles dealing with all aspects of British Columbia, its landscapes and its cultural, economic, social, and political life, past and present. (7000 – 9000 words)

Scholarly Podcasts & New Media

are a new peer-reviewed feature that extends our commitment to disseminating new knowledge forms from diverse voices and trans-disciplinary perspectives. They may present original research results or engage existing scholarship in new ways and may be standalone episodes or short mini-series. (1000-2000 words)

Soundworks are peer-reviewed sonic and/or musical compositions and recordings engaging with sonic expressions, phenomena, or explorations of British Columbia with a brief textual accompaniment. (1000-2000 words)

Research Notes attend to diverse knowledge practices, political projects, alliances and/or engagements in any field of research. These are shorter essays that may include, research stories, works in progress, innovative methodologies, problems or dilemmas encountered during research, etc. (3000 – 5000 words)

And Case Comments, Photo Essays, New Media /
Exhibition Reviews, Review Essays, Reflections, Digital Stories, Forum.

FOR MORE SUBMISSION INFORMATION:

www.bcstudies.com | info@bcstudies.com